

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to a receptor binding conjugate which consists of an antibody, a radionuclide and folate or a folate derivative, wherein or not the 5 conjugate possesses dual binding ability. The present invention also relates to a method and a kit to prepare, as well as a method to use, such conjugates.

Furthermore, the use of a conjugate according to the present invention to prepare a pharmaceutical solution 10 is disclosed.